"We were delighted at the number of employees that opted to have the Prevent health screens. The programme was well organised by Prevent, with most of the administration handled by their team. The positive feedback from employees ranged from the arrangement of the appointments, information being provided and the health screens themselves, has been excellent and we would certainly consider running further programmes in the future."

Steve Allen, Health & Safety, HM Treasury, 1 Horse Guards Road, London

"300,000 people a year, suffer from a heart attack in the UK. However, for most people the heart attack is the first sign that anything is wrong, because there are no obvious symptoms. Prevent plc's health screening results confirm that they are highlighting early symptoms of cardiovascular disease for people who are subsequently able to seek treatment before a potentially fatal heart attack occurs."
